City's waste woes pour out at Green Tribunal Panel meet

Systematic letting out of sewage into lakes and unbridled construction atop Chamundi Hill highlighted

Chairperson of National Green Tribunal State-Level Committee Justice Subhash B. Adi holding a meeting of stakeholders at the Old Council Hall of the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) yesterday. MCC Commissioner G. Lakshmikantha Reddy and others are seen

Mysuru, Mar. 26 (MTY&BCT)- City's worsening garbage and waste disposal mechanism, pollution of lakes, construction of structures inside public parks by the Mysuru City Corporation, dilapidated heritage structures that are further neglected by the State Government, garbage atop Chamundi Hill.

These were a few issues that dominated the interaction between various stakeholders and Chairperson of National Green Tribunal (NGT) State-Level Committee Justice Subhash B. Adi at Old Council Hall of the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) yesterday. Throughout the interaction, the stakeholders listed out various problems faced by the city and the lack of concern displayed by officers and elected representatives.

At the outset, stakeholders said that many lakes that have sustained Mysuru for centuries were on the path of destruction as no conservation methods are being initiated. Taking the examples of Kukkarahalli Lake, Thippayyanakere and Lingambudhi Lake, stakeholders said that the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) is letting sewage and wastewater inside the Lakes and no action has been taken so far, despite tall promises.

Taking the example of Kukkarahalli Lake, environment activist S. Shylajesha said that the University of Mysore was the custodian of the Lake but thousands of gallons of wastewater, sewage and soap-laden water from neighbouring layouts are being released on a daily basis to the water body.

Plastic menace, buildings inside parks

Working President of Mysuru Grahakara Parishat Sobhana told Justice Adi that they are being threatened by the single-use plastic bag manufacturing mafia if they report their activities to the authorities. Taking the issue seriously, Justice Adi asked the MCC and the Police to take immediate action against persons who intimidate and cancel the trade licence of manufacturers.

Novelist Dr. S.L. Bhyrappa's Cultural Centre in his birthplace at Hassan district

Foundation stone laid for Centre for Excellence in Art and Culture in Honour of Padma Bhushan Dr. S.L. Bhyrappa

Shravanabelagola (Channarayapatna) MLA C.N. Balakrishna laying the foundation stone for the Centre for Excellence in Art and Culture in Honour of Padma Bhushan Dr. S.L. Bhyrappa this morning at Santheshivara village in the presence of Dr. Bhyrappa, Hassan DC M.S. Archana and others.

Mysuru, Mar. 26 (BCT)- The foundation stone for the Centre for Excellence in Art and Culture in Honour of Padma Bhushan Dr. S.L. Bhyrappa was laid this morning at Santheshivara village in Hassan District, the birthplace of the legendary Kannada novelist Dr. Santheshivara Lingannaiah Bhyrappa.

The foundation stone was laid in the presence of Dr. Bhyrappa by Shravanabelagola (Channarayapatna) MLA C.N. Balakrishna, Deputy Commissioner Archana and other dignitaries.

In the 2020-2021 Budget, the then CM B.S. Yediyurappa had announced Rs. 5 crore for the improvement and promotion of art, literature and culture in Santheshivara in Channarayapatna Taluk through the Centre for Excellence in Art and Culture.

Speaking on the occasion, Dr. Bhyrappa said that he was happy that the Karnataka Government has recognised his contributions and is building this Centre which will promote classical art and literature among rural people.

"Though the project got delayed due to COVID-19 and other reasons, I am happy that the Government has released money now. The birthplace (Santheshivara) always gives me an emotional thrill. Though I got Padma Bhushan recently and it has given me some satisfaction, there is nothing like the honour coming from my own birthplace and I have been showered with love and affection by the villagers," he said.

On the occasion, a lift irrigation project from the Nagamangala Branch Canal near Jabaghatta village was launched to fill 67.16 tmcft (thousand million cubic feet) water to Santheshivara Lake, Agrahara Belaguli Ooramundinakere and Agrahara Belaguli Honnanakere. EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

India has more than a thousand Central laws and a larger number of State laws, and Indian laws are riddled with complex language and Latin words (ipso facto, ab initio, ex parte, ex post facto, de minimis, in pari materia, in personam, mens rea, mutatis mutandis, pari passu, res judicata, quasi, sui generis) that make legal knowledge difficult to comprehend by the common man. Since laws were originally written in Latin or French, many of the common terms are still being used. Advocates use words that date back a thousand years and are not current, such as aforesaid, forthwith, henceforth, thereto, and thenceforth. Instead of using one word to communicate an idea, they use several, like "null and void and of no effect whatsoever," when just "void" or "null" would be good enough.

The Central Government has constituted a team to examine a proposal to have two drafts of every piece of legislation, one in proper legalese and the other in plain English that is comprehensible to the common man. It's time India considered passing similar legislation. India's democratic and participatory society needs a plain-language Language Act to function properly, as the current legal language is not only incomprehensible to common citizens but also to many lawyers. The legislation will aim to make laws more accessible and comprehensible to citizens, especially those with disabilities and lower education levels. An incomprehensible legal discourse that is accessible only to a few has dictatorial implications. Plain legal language brings substantial benefits to lawyers, clients, and citizens at large. It can be legally safe; it saves time and money; and it is easier for clients and citizens to grasp the laws that bind them.

World's largest cake ball

Nebraska: A Nebraska-based coffee chain broke a Guinness World Record by assembling an 848-pound cake ball in celebration of its 25th anniversary.

Scooter's Coffee, based in Omaha, assembled the cake ball at its annual Grow Conference at the CHI Health Centre in Omaha. Officials said they attempted the Guinness World Record to celebrate the 25th anniversary of the chain's founding in Bellevue. The resulting cake ball weighed in at 848 pounds, beating the record of 628 pounds set by England's Sheffield Wednesday Football Club in 2017. The cake ball, baked from scratch and assembled by employees from Scooter's-affiliated company Harvest Roasting, will be sliced and served to more than 1,500 Scooter's Coffee executives, employees, franchisees and coffee bean growers attending.

The 3-legged elephant

Nsemani: Vutomi the elephant displays her will to survive by keeping up with her herd and living a normal life despite only being able to walk on three legs. Dylan Pons, 31, a content creator for Zuka Private Game Reserve in South Africa, recently shared his incredible experience during an afternoon drive from Satara, Dylan and his team stumbled upon a herd of elephants at Nsemani dam, where they witnessed something truly remarkable.

As Pons observed the herd, they noticed that Vutomi was present and had been in the water, finding comfort and relief. She is an incredible elephant with a remarkable story and has a noticeable limp and only has three legs. This loss of limb could be due to a snare, which is a reality of life for these animals, or it could have been from a predator attack in her younger years. Vutomi is a survivor and a truly remarkable display of the resilience of these wild animals despite their harsh conditions. Despite her injury, Vutomi was surrounded by other elephants that came to greet her, displaying a beautiful sense of community and care.

Stop garbage burning menace near RTO Circle

Sir,

This is to bring to the notice of Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) authorities that there is constant burning of dry waste going on near RTO Circle in Lakshmipuram (next to Trin Trin docking station). The smoke is causing havoc in the residential area around it. Children, adults and senior citizens alike are badly affected due to this smoke.

We have brought it to the notice of the Police Station, Lakshmipuram and the Helpline of MCC every now and then. The reaction is mostly lip-service.

There are several small tea stalls in this area and the garbage most likely is paper cups which are used to serve tea.

We once again urge the MCC to take strict action on the offenders. There are plenty of cameras around, the culprit/s can be caught easily if there is an intention.

Nalwadi Krishnaraja Wadiyar's bust unveiled at MPVL

Mysuru, Mar. 26 (SSM)- The bust of Mysore Maharaja Nalwadi Krishnaraja Wadiyar was unveiled in the premises of Mysore Paints and Varnish Ltd. (MPVL) — formerly Mysore Lac and Paints Limited (MyLAC) — here yesterday. Speaking after unveiling the bust, MPVL Chairman Raghu R. Kautilya said that the bust of the erstwhile Mysore Maharaja has been installed marking the Platinum Jubilee celebrations of MPVL. "Nalwadi's bust which is of 3ft. tall and 2.5ft in width is a symbol of simplicity and development. Sculptor Arun Yogiraj, who has carved the statue of Adi Shankaracharya installed at Kedarnath and the statue of Subash Chandra Bose installed in New Delhi, has sculpted the bronze bust of the great ruler," he added.

"The old bust of Nalwadi which was already installed has been shifted to a different place. Nalwadi Wadiyar set up the Mysore Lac Factory in 1937 at Bannimantap, which later came under the control of the then Mysore Government in 1947, and was named as MyLAC. The factory was later renamed as MPVL in 1989 when the factory started the manufacture of Varnish," he said. He also thanked the support of the Mysore Royal Family that is always supporting the development works in Mysuru. "Nalwadi Wadiyar is a pride to all the people of Mysuru and the Royal Family. His bust is a true inspiration to each and everyone," he added.

MPVL MD Kumaraswamy, Directors Siddique Pasha, H.A. Shobha and V. Bharat Kumar, GM Harakumar, Social activist Vikram Iyengar and others were present on the occasion.

Dr. S.L. Bhyrappa releases writer Ajakkala Girish Bhat's book

Mysuru, Mar. 26 (GA&DM)- Acclaimed writer Dr. S.L. Bhyrappa maintained that Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel was deprived of the Prime Minister's post because of the great affection that Mahatma Gandhi had for Jawaharlal Nehru.

He was speaking after releasing writer Ajakkala Girish Bhat's work 'Bahuvachanakkonde Tatva' at a programme organised by the city's Samajika Nyaya Vedike in association with Hubballi's Sahitya Prakashana at Gopalaswamy College on JLB Road here yesterday.

Noting that Sardar Patel had a bigger support than Nehru for becoming the Country's first Prime Minister post-independence, Dr. Bhyrappa said that Nehru walked out at the meeting convened for electing the Prime Minister as he got little support. Then Mahatma Gandhi intervened and convinced Sardar Patel to back out of the top post and accordingly, Patel opted out of the race, which resulted in Nehru becoming the Prime Minister.

Contending that Nehru did not become the Prime Minister after winning the election but due to the courtesy of Mahatma Gandhi, he said that the people of the country know what all happened after Nehru took over as Independent India's first Prime Minister. Stating that mass religious conversions took place in Meghalaya, where tribal communities were converted to Christianity, which is attributed to an Anglican priest named Verrier Elwin, who was given huge amount of money.

Continuing, Dr. Bhyrappa said that Nehru had an younger sister by name Krishna Nehru Hutheesing who has written a book titled 'With No Regretes,' which was translated into Kannada by Dr. DeJaGow and titled as 'Nenapu Kahiyalla.'

Pointing out that the book explains the life of Nehru when he was in Nainital jail, he said it is to be noted that Nehru wrote his book 'Discovery of India' in this jail. The book became popular in a short time as it was based on the history of India as recorded by the British Historians. A cinema was also made based on the book, he added.

"The book author Girish Bhat has made a mention of Veer Savarkar in his work. Savarkar was sentenced to 52-year prison term. Unable to bear the trauma while in jail, he gave a written undertaking that he would not take part in politics further, which led to his release. But some distorted this to their own convenience saying that Savarkar came out of jail after tendering an apology, which is a false narrative. The jail life of Savarkar cannot be compared with that of Nehru as Nehru had all the facilities while in Jail," Dr. Bhyrappa said adding that the author Girish Bhat, who has widely read English literature, is a different type of author.

Writer Rohit Chakrateertha, in his address, said that a false narrative that Aryans were migrants who attacked the locals is being widely spread, which is unfortunate. India is a multi-cultural country which is rarely seen elsewhere in the world. But with the passage of time, Indians have begun to understand what is the real history and facts of the country, he added.

Senior Advocate O. Sham Bhat, who is also the President of Saamajika Nyaya Vedike, said that Hindu religion has incorporated multi-cultures.

Pointing out that Saints of Southern India have highlighted Lalita Sahasranama, Sri Chakra Aradhana and Surya Aradhane in Rigveda, he said it is interesting to note that many idols of Lord Shiva and other Agastya Saints were discovered amidst the rubbles when earthquakes occurred in Malaysia and Indonesia a few years ago.

Maharaja Education Trust (MET) President Dr. S. Murali, author Ajakkala Girish Bhat, Rangayana Director Addanda C. Cariappa and others were present on the occasion.

Join hands to make India TB-free by 2025: DHO

4,000 cases identified every year in Mysuru district; 2,000 active cases now

Mysuru, Mar. 26 (MTY&BS)- District Health Officer (DHO) Dr. K.H. Prasad has said "As per the aspirations of Prime Minister Narendra Modi, the Health and Family Welfare Department has chalked out several programmes to make India Tuberculosis (TB)-free by the year 2025. The co-operation of people is vital in identification and treatment of TB patients."

Dr. Prasad was addressing the gathering after inaugurating World TB Day, organised at Vaidyara Bhavan in the premises of District Health Officer's Office, Nazarbad here on Friday. World Tuberculosis Day, observed on Mar. 24 each year, is designed to build public awareness about the global epidemic of tuberculosis and efforts to eliminate the disease.

"Like TB-free India, a programme has been chalked out to make 'TB-free Mysuru'. Annually 4,000 TB patients are identified in Mysuru district and measures are taken to treat them. It takes at least six months to treat the patient and cure the disease and if one takes the treatment without any fail (for six months), they can be cured of the disease," said the DHO.

Presently, 2,000 TB patients are identified in Mysuru district and are being treated by Health and Family Welfare Department. Along with this, steps are being taken to identify TB patients, as some among them prefer to maintain secrecy despite ailment. In this wake, measures are taken to track such patients with the help of general public, organisations and associations and the Government itself bears their treatment expenses. Several associations have also joined hands with the Health and Family Welfare Department and have adopted 897 TB patients among 2,000 cases and supplying nutritious food to them. For a period of six months, the Government provides a financial assistance of Rs. 500 per month to TB patients, he added.

In case of any symptoms of TB, people should avail treatment at the nearest Primary Health Centre, Taluk General Hospital and Government Hospital, he advised.

Awareness Jatha

As part of World TB Day, an awareness jatha was taken out from Kote Anjaneyaswamy Temple to the Deputy Commissioner's Office via K.R. Circle. Students of various Nursing Colleges, staff of Health and Family Welfare Department took part in the jatha.

Divisional Joint Director of Health and Family Welfare Department Dr. Rajeshwari, District TB Control Officer Dr. Siraj Ahmed, RCH Officer Dr. M.S. Jayanth, District Vector Borne Diseases Control Officer Dr. S. Chidambara, Ravindra of Lions Club and others were present.

Vijayendra confident of BJP coming to power

MP Sreenivasa Prasad challenges to defeat Siddu from Varuna

Nanjangud, Mar. 26 (Sunil& TRR)- Buoyed by the latest pep talk he received from BJP chief election strategist and Union Home Minister Amit Shah, BJP Vice-President B.Y. Vijayendra (son of former CM B.S. Yediyurappa) has expressed confidence that BJP will win a majority in the forthcoming Assembly elections to be held shortly and will form the next Government.

He was speaking at the BJP SC/ST Morcha and BJP party workers conference held at Vidyavardhaka School Grounds here on Friday.

Hailing present BJP MLA B. Harshavardhan's contributions to Nanjangud Constituency, the BJP Vice-President said that the Congress leaders only gave speeches and failed to implement irrigation projects in the Constituency.

"It was Yediyurappa's Government which sanctioned the Nugu Lift Irrigation project that was executed at a cost of Rs. 80 crore. We all know the project was sanctioned due to persistent efforts of MLA Harshavardhan. The party workers under the leadership of Chamarajanagar MP V. Sreenivasa Prasad must work hard to elect Harshavardhan as MLA again," added Vijayendra.

"The Opposition leaders were day-dreaming that after stepping down as CM, Yediyurappa would sit at home and retire from politics. But soon after his resignation, Yediyurappa announced that he will work hard to ensure victory for BJP again. Yediyurappa-led BJP Government gave programmes for all sections of the society and the present Government of Bommai is taking it forward. No power can stop the BJP from coming to power again in the State," concluded Vijayendra.

MP Sreenivasa Prasad, who too spoke on the occasion, ridiculed former CM Siddharamaiah for his inability to find a Constituency to contest the election. He challenged to defeat Siddharamaiah, who is contesting from Varuna. "BJP could have won Varuna in the last Assembly elections itself had it fielded a candidate. Even now it is not too late. We know how to corner him," added Sreenivasa Prasad.

MLA Rajugowda said that Congress couldn't increase the reservations for SC/ST in the last 70 years but the BJP Government has increased the reservations.

MLA Harshavardhan said that Vijayendra played an important role in bringing a total grant of Rs. 700 crore to Nanjangud Constituency.

BJP District President Mangala Somashekar, Karnataka Compost Development Corporation Limited Chairman S. Mahadevaiah, MyLAC Chairman Raghu R. Kautilya, District SC Morcha Chairman Annaiah Naidu, Zonal in-charge Sureshbabu and others were present.

City set to host valedictory of JD(S) Pancharatna Yatra

Former CM H.D. Kumaraswamy, along with Chamundeshwari MLA G.T. Devegowda and others, inspecting the JD(S) Convention venue near Uttanahalli Temple along Ring Road in city yesterday.

Huge dais has been erected at the venue and the ground has been spruced up for the event with the party's banners, buntings and flex boards dotted everywhere in and around the venue and also along all roads leading to the venue. The Pancharatna Yatra travelled across most of the 224 Assembly segments covering all the districts of the State, with former CM H.D. Kumaraswamy addressing mega rallies in almost all Assembly segments.

Novelist Dr. S.L. Bhyrappa's Cultural Centre at Hassan

Hassan DC M.S. Archana said that though Hassan is closer to Mysuru, it had not assumed prominence. With the Centre For Excellence in Art and Culture in Honour of Dr. Bhyrappa, the cultural activities will increase to benefit the entire Hassan a great deal, she opined.

After the Budget announcement, the Detailed Project Report (DPR) for the Centre was prepared and the proposal was sent to the State Government. Rs. 1 crore has been allotted and released for the project in the budget of 2022-23. The Department of Kannada and Culture is executing the project and Hassan Nirmithi Kendra is taking up the construction of the Centre.

Artist's impression of the Dr. S.L. Bhyrappa Centre of Art and Culture.

The Art and Literature Centre would be developed as per the guidelines of the Government and Gowramma Memorial Trust suggested the architecture and rough design.

Assistant Director of the Department of Kannada and Culture in Hassan Dr. M.D. Sudarshan appreciated the concerted efforts of Gowramma Trust at Santheshivara and S.L. Bhyrappa Sahitya Pratishtana, Mysuru, in conceptualising and designing the project. Mysuru-based well-known engineer and architect M.S. Vijayashankar has designed the building.

Hon. Secretary of S. L. Bhyrappa Sahitya Pratishtana Prof. G.L. Shekar said that the proposed Centre would be a serene place for those interested in the pursuit of knowledge through their research and writing.

"It is a place to read, surf, research, learn and write," he said. The integrated physical campus will have various infrastructure and facilities such as a conference hall, auditorium, library and resource centre, classrooms and gallery. It is also envisaged to provide a studio and transmission hub for online education.

Teaching Kannada to the poor and underprivileged in the village of Santheshivara and its surrounding areas would be a priority agenda, Prof. Shekar said.

According to the Kannada and Culture Department sources, the Centre for Excellence will have a gallery to display all the works, writings and books of Bhyrappa.

This apart, there will be documentaries about the celebrated author and his works and movies based on his literary works. The Centre will house four guest rooms for those who want to stay and do research on his works. The built area of the Centre will be 120x 90 ft and will have ground plus two floors.

It is learnt that most of the land for the Centre is given by Dr. Bhyrappa himself and a small portion of it is donated by one Gangegowda of the same village.

Waste woes pour out at Green Tribunal Panel meet

Kiran, a resident of Vijayanagar told the NGT Panel chief that the MCC is the biggest violator as it has gone ahead constricting permanent structures inside almost all the parks of Mysuru city. He said that the MCC and local elected representatives like the Corporators and the MLAs insist on constructing permanent structures inside the parks in complete violation of the Karnataka Parks, Play-Field and Open Spaces (Preservation and Regulation) Act, 1985.

Susthira Foundation President Ramesh Kikkeri said that they work closely with the MCC on many initiatives and the main problem of garbage is it stems out of houses without being segregating into wet and dry waste and also dumping of garbage by the side of the road clandestinely by hundreds of households.

Systematic destruction of Chamundi Hill

Leela Shivakumar told Justice Adi that she and many other volunteers were involved in a recent four-day cleaning campaign atop Chamundi Hill where tonnes of garbage dumped by tourists were cleaned and sent to waste management plants. She suggested he direct the authorities to devise a strategy to ban private vehicles atop the Hill and allow only KSRTC buses.

Seconding her was Leela Venkatesh who also highlighted how rampant construction in the name of development was threatening the very existence of Chamundi Hill. She said that unused and wet cement was also being dumped atop the Hill and this was causing ecological damage in the green and fragile space.

Reacting to the suggestions, Justice Adi asked the officers to make Chamundi Hill a strict plastic and litter-free zone on the lines of Tirupati Venkateshwara Swamy Temple. He said all the vehicles entering Chamundi Hill including buses must be checked for plastic, bottles and other waste. He also directed them to free the Hill of all illegal constructions.

Crumbling heritage structures

Retired Professor from the Department of Ancient History and Archaeology, University of Mysore, who is also a Member of the Heritage Conservation Committee, Government of Karnataka and Convener of INTACH, Mysuru Chapter, Prof. N.S. Rangaraju highlighted the apathy shown by the Government towards the crumbling heritage structures of Mysuru.

"The Government has not learnt its lessons despite the collapse of Devaraja Market, Lansdowne Building, Maharani's College and many other structures that the Government has not even bothered to classify as heritage structures though they qualify and have all the merits of a heritage structure and deserves to be restored," he pointed out.

MCC Commissioner G. Lakshmikantha Reddy, Health Officer Dr. D.G. Nagaraju, Zilla Panchayat CEO K.M. Gayathri and other officers were present.

A behavioural change needed to change Mysuru: Justice Adi

Responding to the suggestions and during the interaction, Justice Subhash Adi said that Mysuru's cleanliness quotient is declining as it lacks an effective waste management system. "We must have an effective solid and other waste management so that the city that was twice declared as India's Cleanest City will retain its heritage and historical character," he said.

"Mysuru, known for its heritage, culture, and tourism, will lose all its distinctions if the city is not clean. And the onus of keeping the city clean is a collective responsibility of the MCC, Pourakarmikas and residents," he noted.

Comparing Mysuru and Indore which has been ranked the Cleanest City in the country continuously for six years, Justice Adi said that in Indore, every citizen takes a special interest in the cleanliness initiatives and such a behavioural change is necessary for Mysuru as well.

Rayanakere stray dog rehab centre nearing completion

Once the construction is complete, hundreds of strays that have been abandoned from the core city areas of the city will be shifted here and will be taken care of here so that they can lead a dignified life and will be provided proper medical care.

The dog rehabilitation centre will have a couple of sections. While healthy dogs will be housed in one section, the other will house sick strays. There will be a separate section for seriously ill dogs and facilities for treatment will be provided. There will be an exclusive section for pups.

"Orphan dogs, puppies, geriatric dogs, sick and rabid dogs and disease-infested dogs will be sheltered separately and treatment will be provided. We have an operation theatre that will have emergency surgery procedures and the machines that are worth Rs. 50 lakh will be installed," Deputy Director of Animal Husbandry Dr. Shadaksharamurthy told Star of Mysore.

"There will be exclusive isolation centres that will house those dogs that have the potential to spread diseases to humans and we have the necessary equipment and protection to treat such dogs. Also, isolation centres are available to treat the dogs for about four to five days," he added.

MLA Ramdas said that it is for the first time that Government funds have been used to construct a stray dog rehabilitation centre. "We have received many complaints of dogs being attacked, poisoned and killed and we have seen how innocent beings suffered during the COVID lockdown. They have no place to go despite being seriously ill. Most of the pet owners abandon them after the pets become old," he explained.

"Strays have to bear the vagaries of weather. While people stay cosy and comfortable indoors, these strays suffer in algid weather. We want them to have a decent life till they reach the end. The intention of the shelter is to protect the animals and at the same time, bring down their menace on the streets. It is just a humane way," Ramdas added.

Writer Dr. Latha Muthanna's book

The Jail and Other Tales released

Mysuru, Mar. 26 (PM&DM)- Noted Medical practitioner and writer Dr. Latha Muthanna's book The Jail and Other Tales was released at a programme organised by Mysore Literary Association at Kalpa Kshetra Auditorium in Vijayanagar Fourth stage here this morning.

Speaking after releasing the book, Prof. K.C. Belliappa, President of Mysore Literary Association, said that Dr. Latha Muthanna is an outstanding doctor and he himself is a devoted patient of her. Noting that while doctors are not generally associated with creative writing, Dr. Latha Muthanna is a delightful exception, who has previously written two books, Lopamudra's Daughter - Memoirs of a Kodava Lady (published in 2012) and War - The Ugly Mistress. The present one The Jail and Other Tales, a collection of stories, is her third.

Prof. K.C. Belliappa, President of Mysore Literary Association, seen releasing writer Dr. Latha Muthanna's book The Jail and Other Tales at Kalpa Kshetra auditorium in city this morning.

"I have read all the three works of Dr. Latha Muthanna. Her book on War is of a different kind for all its excellent narration of Military terminology and practices. The narratives in this book The Jail and Other Tales can be divided into three sections based on Dr. Latha's experiences as a doctor treating prison inmates, female centric stories and those featuring her love for animals. The writing evocatively reflects her experiences as a woman doctor treating jail inmates, men and women, and her observation of human nature," he said.

"The style of Dr. Latha's writings makes for absorbing reading. The language used is very literary and is sprinkled with lots of metaphors and similes. She is also very clear in using subtle humour to criticise the Government and the conditions of the prisons here," he noted, adding that the stories are also based on the marginalised condition of the protagonists and how domestic violence is woven into their lives and is accepted as 'normal.'

Mysore Literary Association Secretary Reginald Wesley and Dr. Latha Muthanna's son Pavan Muthanna welcomed. Ganesh, younger brother of Dr. Latha Muthanna, proposed a vote of thanks. Mukta Gupta rendered the invocation. Shalini compered.

Science and Technology must be for society's good: Jaggi Vasudev

Sadhguru delivers fifth Convocation address at JSS STU in city

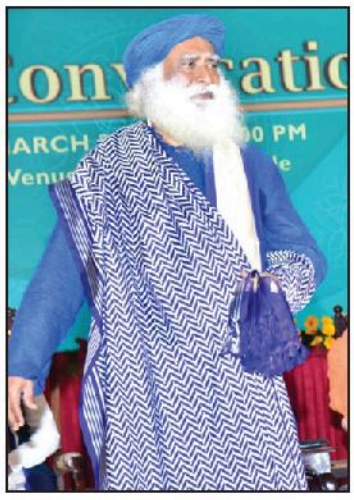
Mysuru, Mar. 26 (MK&BS)- Founder of Isha Foundation Sadhguru Jaggi Vasudev has said that 'the results of progress in the field of Science and Technology should always be for the good of the society.'

The spiritual guru, who delivered the fifth convocation address of JSS Science and Technology University (JSS STU) in city recently, asserted that "If Science and Technology has to be beneficial, the engineers should focus towards the purpose. The engineering which was restricted to create basic infrastructural facilities, has to benefit the survival of all living beings including animals and birds."

"The enhancement of knowledge and capacity are also the ways of empowerment, which can be assured only when those having concerns for the society are equipped with Science and Technology. Or else it will turn dangerous. Most importantly, Science and Technology should be based on humanitarian approach. The engineering should also create wonders," added Jaggi Vasudev.

Like plastic, polyester cloth will also be the reason for environmental pollution. Like the present call for stopping use of plastic, a situation may come when there will be a call to stop using polyester cloths in the coming days. Hence we should take precautions from now itself and reduce the use of polyester cloths to the possible extent, advised Jaggi Vasudev.

"I have travelled several countries and held interactions. Most of the questions are from Indians, as is the quality of this land. It is due to the conscience of questioning that the country is marching towards progress. Hence, the next 20 years assume significance and have to safeguard all living beings and focus on positive development in all the fields including Science and Technology," he said.



Sadhguru Jaggi Vasudev

Advising the engineering graduates, Jaggi Vasudev said: "The students who have completed their engineering degree should not be under the impression that it's the end of learning, as the learning of engineering begins next and you should keep the oath taken in heart. You should use whatever you know for the good of yourself and the society around."

It is also a matter of happiness that, women are more among engineering graduates against the situation that was 30 years ago, with less number of women engineers, said Jaggi Vasudev who wished the students all the best.

A total of 1,604 students received various degrees and Ph.D, including 986 BE, 54 BCA, 176 M.Tech, 103 MCA, 47 MSc., 227 MBA and 11 Ph.Ds. The 56 Medals were awarded to the students, including 34 medals for top scoring students in respective branches and 22 Endowment Medals.

Seminar on Dr. K.S. Narayanacharya's works

'The Scholar made great efforts to correct wrong interpretation of Indian literature by western countries'

Mysuru, Mar. 26 (PM&DM)- Littérateur Dr. T.V. Venkatachala Sastry said that Scholar Dr. K.S. Narayanacharya spent most of his energy on condemning and correcting wrong interpretations of Indian literature by western countries.

He was speaking after presiding over a seminar on Dr. K.S. Narayanacharya's works (Swadhyaya Pravachana) organised under the aegis of Sanatana Sabha at RamaGovinda Rangamandira in Ramakrishnanagar here recently.

Pointing out that Dr. Narayana-charya's thoughts, works and interpretations were all based on vedic culture, Dr. Sastry said that the great scholar propagated that Indian culture is a most resourceful and valuable one.

"Dr. Narayanacharya was totally committed to research, discourse, writing, lecture and the like throughout his life. Though he was a key literary figure, it is disappointing to note that the scholar was more identified with mythology only," he said.

Recalling his association with Dr. Narayanacharya, he said that both of them were from Kanakapura and were friends right from childhood, studying in the same Government School. Highlighting the cultural matters which the works and discourses of Dr. Narayanacharya are centred around, Dr. Sastry said that every work of the Acharya was resourceful.

Suttur Seer Sri Shivarathri Deshikendra Swamiji, who graced the occasion, said that Dr. Narayanacharya who was an English Professor, is one of the very few scholars who mastered our ancient culture and traditions. Pointing out that Dr. Narayanacharya was an authoritative figure on mythology and other ancient works, the Seer said that the scholar was well-versed in Ancient History and English literature too, which enabled him to give a new dimension and a fresh insight in respect of spiritual and philosophical matters.

Senior Advocate O. Sham Bhat said that Dr. Narayanacharya took on those who were out to shatter the rich Indian culture and heritage.

Noting that the scholar strived hard for imparting spiritualism and religious devotion among our population through his works, he explained how the great scholar took on the likes of M.N. Roy, whose return from China resulted in the springing up of disruptive forces in the country.

Earlier, Industrialist Dr. M. Jagannath Shenoy, who spoke after inaugurating the programme, said that Dr. Narayanacharya made an in-depth study and evaluation of everything before he could pen a book or deliver discourse on the matter. Noting that his discourses were popular, he said that his demise was a great loss to the spiritual and literary world.

Dr. S.L. Bhyrappa Sahitya Pratishtana Secretary Dr. G.L. Shekar, Sanatana Sabha President N.S. Dwarakanath, Vice-President Prof. S. Ramprasad, Secretary Vid. G.N. Bhatta and others were present.

It is necessary to see that their numbers are equal for a healthy society, Dr. Prasad said and urged the doctors to co-operate for the effective implementation of the law in all districts and also to create awareness among the people about the evils of gender discrimination, which is also the responsibility of the society.

WORD OF THE DAY

Vindicate

Pronunciation: VIN-duh-kayt.
Meaning: Vindicate means "to show that someone is not guilty." It can also mean "to show that someone or something that has been criticised or doubted is correct, true, or reasonable."
Origin: It's hard not to marvel at rich history of vindicate. Vindicate, which has been used in English since at least the mid-16th century, comes from a form of Latin verb vindicare, meaning "to set free, avenge, or lay claim to." Vindicare, in turn, comes from vindex, a noun meaning "claimant" or "avenger." Truly, vindex has proven to be an incredible hulk of a word progenitor over centuries. Other descendants of this "avenger" assembled in English include avenge itself, revenge, vengeance, vendetta, and vindictive.
Example: "Describing Webb Pierce's 'There Stands the Glass' (1953), [Bob] Dylan extrapolates the sad song into something remorselessly bleak: The song's narrator 'must justify and vindicate his entire being, he's been betrayed by politicians back home, forsaken and double crossed.'" — Elizabeth Nelson, The Washington Post, 31 Oct. 2022.

THE ODD WORD

Vaccimulgence

Cow milking.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Veg out

Meaning: To 'veg out' is to relax in a slothful and mindless manner.
Origin: This phrase 'veg out' derives from the association of vegetables with mental incapacity; in the way that mentally disabled people are sometimes referred to as vegetables. 'Couch potato' comes from the same notion.
The term originated in the 1970s. Most of the early uses of it come from the USA, although the earliest that we know of is from Canada, in The Calgary Herald, November 1979: The teenager's favourite description of doing nothing. ("I'm just going to veg out today.")
